Scenario A

"We never planned to host the creation seminar, but at the last minute the church decided to just screen the presentation," said one pastor.

In two small churches in the district, one had 12-14 attending with two visitors who came every night. The second church had a regular attendance of eight and two visitors.

"I was encouraged with the attendance in both my churches. We have four new contacts to work with and at least two of them said they would like to come to church," continued the pastor.

"I am thrilled for more ministry opportunities in the weeks and months ahead! God and I are always a majority. What a privilege," exclaimed the pastor.

Scenario B

A host church reported they had sent out a double mailing to over 2100 homes in their zip code. Their guest ratio to members was very high. Five visitors came every night and enjoyed fellowshiping with the members over light refreshments after the meeting.

"We had good discussions about evolution and creation. We're happily surprised with the success of the meetings and anxiously look forward to the next seminar," reported the pastor.

Night 1: 13 members, 12 visitors

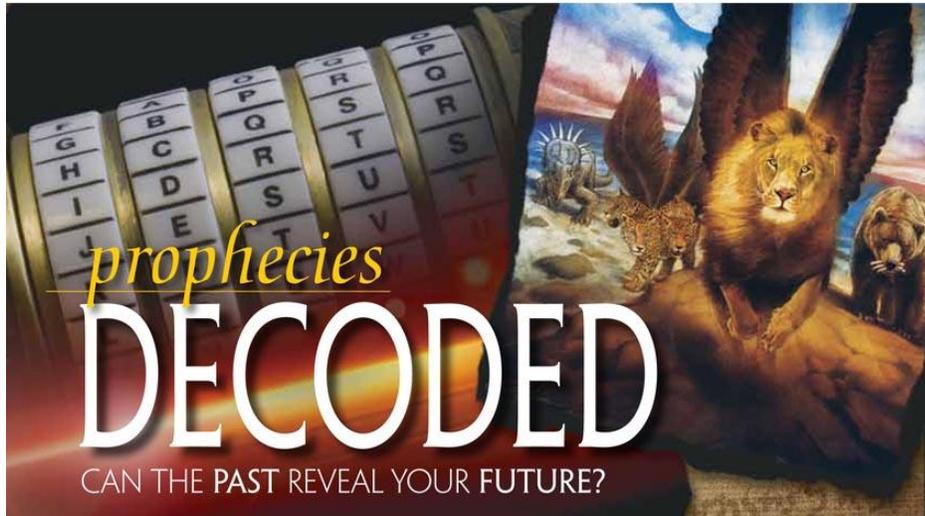

Night 2: 13 members, 7 visitors

Night 3: 7 members, 5 visitors

Night 4: 11 members, 6 visitors

Night 5: 15 members, 5 visitors

Churches are encouraged to plan now for the Archaeology seminar in September. Planning and advertising does make a difference! Plan to contact every person in nearby zip codes either by sending a mailing or by placing door hangers on every door. Sometimes God will bless beyond our expectations, but consider what He can do for us if we plan and work together to accomplish our great commission of reaching North America with love. Are we willing to make the commitment!
